

The website has many features some of which are public some of which are reserved for members only.

Public

1. All articles are available for viewing by the public.
2. The site has a forum that is available to be read by the public.
3. The photo album is available to the public.

Members

1. All members will have access to all public areas.
2. Members will be allowed to add articles to the site. These will be reviewed by the editor and only published once the editor has cleared it for publication.
3. Members will be able to add photographs to the site.
4. Members will be able to contribute to the forum.